I've been told by the BID'S landscape lighting contractor of a certain motor home that has been stealing electricity for some time. Tonight (Jan 24 about 9:13 pm) after finishing a meeting in the community I saw what I thought to possibly be the motor home parked on the west side of Sepulveda in front of the Ralph's center, near the sidewalk to Starbucks. On an impulse, I wanted to see for myself. So I stopped to investigate. To my amazement, the motor home was in fact plugged into the BID'S landscape lighting electric receptacle. I pulled the plug! A man emerged from the motor home and threatened: "you can't touch my plug." I replied: "you're stealing my electricity, you can't do that." I took some photos, which are attached.

What can we do to put a stop to this behavior before it grows out of control?
Based on my observations are there criminal charges that can be filed?

Can we discuss this tomorrow? Thank you for your help.
